Infobox for the exhibition MUSTERUNG. POP UND POLITIK IN DER ZEITGENÖSSISCHEN TEXTILKUNST:

The examination of the material, new textiles and carrier materials currently inspires artists of different generations and origins from all continents. Curtains, wallpapers and carpets are rediscovered as image carriers of contemporary representations. With fabrics, textile décor and clothing, stories, backgrounds of historical, pictorial and global contexts can be retold. The rediscovery of traditional technologies is contrasted with enthusiasm for new digital technologies: digital technology controls looms in today's world or spins the threads into an augmented reality. Fabrics and their patterns are often also cultural symbols of identity. In the context of mass production of textiles and ecological sustainability, artistic materials research opens up new perspectives and possibilities.

The exhibition places different positions of internationally renowned artists in a dialogue, who explicitly deal with textile materials and at the same time explore their socio-political significance. It was conceived and realized for the Kunstsammlungen Chemnitz in 2020/2021, but did not open due to the lockdown (Source: Kunstmuseum Ravensburg)

Infobox for the exhibition SAMMLUNG SELINKA. GRUPPE SPUR:

Selected works by the artist group SPUR (1957-1965) await you in the salon. SPUR is one of the most important German artists' communities after the Second World War and revolted with art-politically provocative activities against the experienced contradictions of reality and social appearance. Founded by the painters Helmut Sturm (1932-2008), Heimrad Prem (1934-'1978), HP Zimmer ("1936-1992") and the sculptor Lothar Fischer (1933-2004), SPUR finds a highly independent painting that combines figurative and abstract. The participants were enthusiastic about the remarks of the experienced art educator Maria Niermann-Schubert (link to the video) and everyone wants to come back. We are pleased about the successful premiere and the successful project and show once again that our art museum is a wonderful place of encounter and enriching exchange for all people!

New project: „Baby hört mit!“

On August 05th, 2022 the new format "Baby listens! Guided tours for new parents with baby". Thanks to the support of the Friends of the Kunstmuseum Ravensburg e. V., the guided tours are free of charge. Further dates are on September 16th, 2022 and October 07th, 2022.

I am looking forward to meeting you at the Kunstmuseum with best wishes

yours
